Summertime necessities require SPF, hydration, Italian ice and ice cream – and staying cool by the beach, pool, or lake. Elsa knows a thing or two about cooling down, so I called her for today's Disney Discovery. Today's Disney Discovery is the Frozen ice cream maker to turn sweat into icicles. This 1.5 qt ice cream maker is not only overloaded with sweet. It works like a charm too! After freezing the removable gel container for 8-12 hours, the machine is ready for use. Ice cream is served in just 20-40 minutes, without the need for stone salt. Pinterest is ripe with Dole Whip recipes. Maybe you'd like to give them a shot. You have lots of fun exploring the many recipes out there and trying each out for movie nights and ice cream socials. If you love frozen ice cream maker as much as we do, shop for it HERE for $27.85. Happy shopping, fashionistas! Disclaimer – As an Amazon Associate, I earn from qualifying purchases. Disney Parks/YouTube It's no secret that Disney theme parks sell some delicious desserts. For example, there are cinnamon-covered churros, sweet Dole Whip, and powdered beignets shaped like Mickey Mouse. While these three deals are usually only available in places like Disney World and Disneyland, the company has released many recipes in recent weeks to help fans re-create these dishes and more. Here are 14 Disney-inspired desserts you can make at home. Disney theme parks are known to sell delicious churros in a wide range of flavors. Disney Park's Disney Parks Blog shared step-by-step instructions, as well as a video tutorial, in April to help fans make theme-park-inspired snacks. The recipe requires water, butter, salt and cinnamon, as well as flour, eggs, sugar and vegetable oil. As far as tools go, you need a saucepan, pipe bag, slotted spoon, and a stove top. This recipe requires some previous baking experience. Disney Parks/YouTube Throughout its theme parks, Disney sells dome cakes inspired by various characters, movies and events. In 2016, however, the company shared a video recipe for its classic Mickey Mouse design on YouTube. Although it should be noted that this recipe is not necessarily for beginners, it can be filled in at home with the right ingredients and tools - which include mousse, cake, chocolate beads, buttercream, glaze and much more. More: Features Dessert Food Recipes Jump to RecipePrint RecipeComplete with an Ice Candy Mountain and all the characters from the original Frozen. Have you seen Disney's FROZEN yet? We went to see it soon after it came out and my talk about it non stop! That's why we celebrated the movie with a Frozen party! This simple Frozen cake was the centerpiece of it all and I think it turned out amazing! This Disney Frozen Cake is amazing from Ice Candy Mountain, the whipped cream topping, the little figurines and it also has a secret inside... Ice cream! I used simple decorations for the cake including these homemade ice cans! It's just a simple candy that I dyed blue... instructions can be found below! The figures I used were found in a frozen Busy Book I bought at Walmart. So have Elsa, Anna, Olaf, Kristoff, the trolls, and even the ice monster! They proved perfect for the cake and were just the right size. I suggest hot gluing a plastic disk (like a poker chip) to the bottom of the numbers that tend to sink into whipped cream icing! For Disney Frozen Cake I just used a white boxed mix and put some food color in it. I did two 8 inch rounds and cut the middle out of the top layer. Then I filled it with vanilla ice cream and covered it up with plastic wrap before I kept in the freezer the night before the party. The day of the party I waited until about 10 minutes before the food was served and put the stabilized whipped cream glaze on top and all the decorations. The cake stayed frozen for the whole lot which was not something I expected, but I was glad it did! I would say that on average the cake will stay frozen for a good 30 minutes in indoor temperatures before it really starts to melt. Ice Cream Cakes is SOOO great! Nothing better than a little Cake and Ice Cream at a party and I love that it's so easy to serve them together! This Disney Frozen Cake will definitely be a big hit! Be sure to check out the Disney FROZEN Party post for more great ideas! Print RecipeA Disney Frozen Cake which is super cute and creative. The ice candy mountain at the top is fun to do with blue candy shreds. boxed cake mix with ingredients from box to make it blue food coloring about 3 to 4 cups vanilla ice creamWhipped Cream Frosting recipe belowMake a two layer cake using a packaged white cake mix and some blue food coloring. Make the cake according to the box. Set aside until cooled completely. You will want to place the bottom layer on a cardboard cake counter and level the bottom layer out with a knife. Take the next layer and cut out the center leaving around 2 inches around the perimeter. Fill the middle with slightly softened ice cream and wrap the whole cake with plastic wrap. Place in the freezer until ready to serve. When ready to serve use stabilized whipped cream or a buttercream to ice the cake with. It is best to ice the cake within 10 minutes before serving or ice and freeze the cake.1 1/2 cups heavy whipped cream1 teaspoon. vanilla1/2 cup granulated sugar1 1/2 teaspoon. Unflavored Gelatin4 tsp. Water For whipped cream Glaze: mix water and gelatin in a large microwave safe bowl. You will want this bowl to be great because gelatin will foam in the microwave oven. Microwave on high for about 20 seconds or until all gelatin is dissolved. Let the gelatin cool to a lukewarm temp before adding it to the cream, but don't let it get cold as it will be a gel. Meanwhile, with an electric mixer whip heavy cream, sugar and vanilla on high or until thickened. Add gelatin to whipped cream slowly and turn on high until whipped cream forms stiff tops. When you are ready to serve take cupcakes from the freezer and top with whipped cream. You can use this whipped cream glaze as you would any other glaze. It will keep its shape for at least 2 hours and should last longer if chilled. Print RecipesThis recipe may not work when it's damp outside... the humidity level can change the way the candy sets up and when it is moist it becomes sticky. It may still work, but you have to be careful when dealing with it when it's sticky. You can also get similar results using a hard blue candy that jolly ranchers and break them up with a hammer until they are small pieces. Then cook it on a cookie sheet for about 7 minutes at 350 if you don't want to make ice candy from scratch. Author: Rachel recipe from AllRecipes3 3/4 cups white sugar must be white granulated sugar1 1/2 cups light corn syrup1 cup water1 tablespoon lemon or other flavored extract-make sure you use a non colored extract or it will color the finished productblue food dye I used about 10 drops of McCormick food stainingIn a medium saucepan, stir together the white sugar, corn syrup, and water. Cook, stirring, over medium heat until the sugar dissolves, then bring to a boil. Without stirring, heat to 300 to 310 degrees F (149 to 154 degrees C), or until a small amount of syrup sunk into cold water forms hard, brittle threads. Remove from heat and stir in flavored extract and food color, if desired. Pour on a greased or silpat lined sheet / jellyroll pan (the type with raised edges). Allow to cool, and break into large pieces resembling broken ice. Store in an airtight container.
